A Quote from Jenifer Freire,

Medical Student, University of Liverpool

I admire how she is very well organised, always has her planner with her and writes every single detail down so you can expect that she will not forget anything. Her leadership skills are also admirable, she is able to manage different tasks to everyone is a way that no one feels overwhelmed, her instructions are clear too. I would recommend working for Dom, as you will have someone by your side that has years of experience and is not afraid to lead
